Background

The Commission on Excellence and Innovation in Health (CEIH)

The CEIH is the lead agency for innovation in healthcare in South Australia. We bring consumers, clinicians and other collaborators together to turn ideas into better healthcare. We partner with clinicians, consumers, carers and other collaborators to maximise health outcomes for patients, improve care and safety, monitor performance, and champion evidence-based practice.

Our vision is, “Together, creating health and prosperity for all.”

In doing this we will:

- bring together expertise from clinicians, consumers, health partners and other stakeholders to maximize health outcomes and experience;
- be a centre for excellence, a strong partner for clinical improvement and innovation and have expertise which can influence design;
- drive safer, more innovative, and efficient healthcare by empowering clinicians and consumers.

Statewide Clinical Networks

Statewide Clinical Networks are groups of health professionals, health service organisations, and consumers, carers and/or community members who work collaboratively with the goal of high-quality care in a specialist area. Statewide Clinical Networks operate across the entire continuum of care, including private, public and primary health sectors within all Local Health Networks — both country and metropolitan.

Statewide Clinical Networks are an important statewide engagement structure to connect clinical experts, consumers, and other collaborators on agreed priorities to improve the South Australian health system.

Statewide Clinical Networks leadership resembles either a single clinical lead or a clinical and consumer co-leadership. The Statewide Clinical Networks include a steering committee and may also consist of other subcommittees or work groups that are identified as being required to undertake network priority projects.
